

2-DAY INTENSIVE WORKSHOP

LEAD CONFIDENTLY

Building your Practical Toolkit for Leadership

Amy Jackson in-person.

Invest in your leadership development this year through a 2-day intensive in-person experience focused on developing your practical tools, mindsets and habits that will build your confidence for leading your team, influencing upwards and growing your career.

This program is embedded in your lived experience of leadership – you will walk away with the tools that you need for the challenges you currently face and the aspirations you have for your own leadership potential. Your learning will start before you arrive through a reflective practise that will help you understand your development needs and will continue for a further 2-months after the program through follow-up group coaching and supported conversations with your learning peers.

WHO IS THIS FOR?

Mid-level supervisors and managers who are looking to lead from where they are, and grow their careers towards more senior leadership roles. For those who want to think more strategically, communicate with more influence and lead complex teams more effectively. It is for those who want to move past the theories and models and into the practical how to's of more effective every day leadership of the hard stuff.

WHEN

Wed 23rd – Thurs 24th October 2024
8:45am - 5pm

Networking Event
Wednesday evening 5-7pm
(This is your chance to finish all the conversations that I keep interrupting.)

WHERE IS THIS GROWTH HAPPENING?

Cliftons
Level 24, 288 Edward St, Brisbane.

Just around the corner from Central station, across the road from excellent coffee. We'll have a spectacular view, plenty of space to move around and build your network as you learn, and some quiet spaces to take that inevitable phone call that just won't wait.

WHAT WILL YOU ADD TO YOUR TOOLKIT THROUGH THIS EXPERIENCE?

Leading Myself

- Vivid understanding of who you wish to become as a leader and your pathway towards becoming that person.
- Practical strategies to build your confidence and resilience, both in the moment, and over time so that you can consistently tackle the hard stuff more effectively.
- Practical workload, delegation and prioritisation strategies so that you can tackle the great challenge of consistently being asked to do more with less.

Leading Others in Complexity

- Embedded habits that build trust, grow people and deliver team results.
- Strategies for leading meetings, accountability and outcomes in the hybrid workplace.
- Understanding the paradoxes of being both leader and part of a leadership team as you progress within your organisation, and confidence to hold the paradox.

Tackling the Challenges of Leadership in Practise

- Communication skills to confidently tackle difficult conversations with staff, peers, stakeholders and leaders above you.
- Strategies for navigating the complexities of power, influence and politics from the middle management sandwich.
- Reflection strategies to embed ongoing leadership development in your every day approach to your role.
